

Having just served on the AONE board I am eager to run for president elect. My recent experience provides me with a springboard to continue current initiatives while exploring new opportunities to expand the reach and influence of AONE as the voice of nursing leadership. My primary intent in seeking office is to provide innovative leadership to guide and support our mission. Nurse leaders are uniquely positioned to broker the relationships necessary to design the care delivery model of the future. I bring the skills gained in over 20 years of experience and passion to contribute to the nursing profession. Together we can do great things!
